UCT events and interview opportunities

- Biochemistry breakthrough for UCT researchers – In a global first, three UCT researchers have visualised – at a resolution close to that of individual atoms – the intact active site of a commercially important biological molecule. The three researchers are available for interviews.

- UCT Chancellor installation – UCT will host an official installation ceremony for the new chancellor, Dr Precious Moloi-Motsepe on 16 March 2020. RSVP’s for the event and post-event interviews are essential.

- Psychotherapy Symposium – The intention of the symposium on 18 March 2020 is to discuss service delivery models and to develop practical implementation strategies with input from government stakeholders, policy makers, community organisations, and researchers.

- HUMA Seminar; launch of 'Beneath the Surface: A Transitional History of Skin Lighteners' – Author Lynn M. Thomas constructs a transnational history of skin lighteners in South Africa and beyond at an event on 19 March.

<td>Biochemistry breakthrough for UCT researchers</td>
<td>In a global first, three UCT researchers have visualised – at a resolution close to that of individual atoms – the intact active site of a commercially important biological molecule. Dr Jeremy Woodward, Dr Andani Mulelu and Angela Kirykowicz gained novel insights into the structure of a group of enzymes known as nitrilases, which have enormous biotechnological potential. The breakthrough research holds the potential for long-lasting and widespread impacts on everything from manufacturing better medicines to cleaning up pollution.</td>

| HUMA Seminar; (book) launch of ‘Beneath the Surface: A Transitional History of Skin Lighteners’ | For more than a century, skin lighteners have been a ubiquitous feature of global popular culture – embraced by consumers even as they were fiercely opposed by medical professionals, consumer health advocates, and antiracist thinkers and activists. In Beneath the Surface, Lynn M. Thomas constructs a transnational history of skin lighteners in South Africa and beyond. | Dr Divine Fuh
