Dear Editor,

The article in the below link under the headline "New scheme to enable indebted students at UCT to continue their studies", refers.

<http://www.timeslive.co.za/local/2016/01/25/New-scheme-to-enable-indebted-students-at-UCT-to-continue-their-studies>

In the article, various categories of students who are set to be covered by the arrangement to have outstanding debt converted into loans are listed.

Please note that financial assistance to postgraduate students are administered via the postgraduate funding office at UCT and are not affected by this new approach. Please also note that financial aid is not available to international students, including SADC students.

All NSFAS and UCT financial aid is geared towards supporting South African students.

Therefore, the last line on the article is incorrect.

We kindly request that you please make the correction accordingly.

Regards,

Elijah Moholola
