Doctor of Philosophy

The degree of Doctor of Philosophy is a research degree undertaken under the guidance of a supervisor for the minimum period of two years. A candidate may proceed through any of the faculties of the University in accordance with these rules and those of the faculty concerned. It is not essential for a candidate to proceed through the faculty in which he or she obtained his or her bachelor or master’s degree. When considering an application for registration for the degree for PhD, Senate will be guided by the following as being appropriate admission requirements:

(a) a recognised master’s degree; or
(b) a recognised honours bachelor degree, or a recognised four-year bachelor degree, plus at least one year’s registration for an approved master’s degree; or
(c) a recognised three-year bachelor degree plus at least two years registration for an approved master’s degree; or
(d) a recognised MBChB, LLB, BProc or BArch degree or any qualification recognised by Senate as being equivalent; or
(e) in special circumstances an approved bachelor degree or qualifications recognised by the Senate as equivalent.

A master’s candidate may apply to upgrade his or her candidature to PhD candidature at any time before submitting his or her dissertation for examination for the master’s degree for which he or she has registered; once a submitted dissertation has been sent by the University to examiners, it may not be withdrawn, nor may the candidate apply to upgrade his or her candidature to PhD candidature. A PhD candidate may apply to downgrade his or her candidature for a master’s degree at any time before submitting his or her thesis; once a submitted thesis has been sent by the University to examiners, it may not be withdrawn, nor may the candidate apply to downgrade his or her candidature to candidature for a master’s degree. A PhD candidate who fails the PhD examination may not submit the work for any other degree at this University.

Registration and residence

GP1.1 A person shall not be admitted as a candidate for the degree unless he or she:
(a) is a graduate of the University or of any other university recognised by the Senate for the purpose; or
(b) has passed at any university or at any institution recognised by the Senate for the purpose, such examinations as are, in the opinion of Senate, equivalent to the examinations prescribed for a degree at the University; or
(c) has in any other manner attained a level of competence which is in the opinion of Senate, on the recommendation of the faculty concerned, is adequate for the purposes of admission as a candidate for the degree.

GP1.2 Senate may admit to the degree any candidate who has been admitted three years previously to a degree of bachelor, or any candidate who has been admitted at least two years previously to a bachelor degree where a minimum period of study prescribed for such bachelor degrees was not less than four years.
GP3.4 Senate may refuse to permit a candidate whose progress is unsatisfactory to renew his or her registration.

Application for admission

GP4 Before a person may be registered for the degree his or her candidature must be approved by the Senate on the recommendation of the board of the faculty and the head of the department concerned. An application must give such evidence of his or her qualifications and attainments and complete such preliminary work as Senate may require, and must satisfy Senate as to the suitability of his or her subject and programme of research and as to the conditions under which the work will be carried out.

Obtaining the degree

GP5.1 A candidate shall undertake research, and such advanced study as may be required, under the guidance of a supervisor or supervisors appointed by Senate for the minimum period of two years.

GP5.2 At the conclusion of his or her supervised research a candidate shall submit a thesis for examination. Before doing so he or she must inform the Doctoral Degrees Board Office in writing to this effect and submit a signed statement from his or her supervisor indicating whether or not he or she supports the submission of a thesis for examination. A candidate will not, however be debarred from submitting his or her thesis for examination if his or her supervisor does not support the submission of the thesis.

GP5.3 Where a candidate intends to submit his or her thesis for examination in the hope of the award of the degree at either the June or December graduation ceremonies, he or she must inform the Doctoral Degrees Board Office in writing of his or her intention to do so by not later than 10 January or 20 June respectively; the final dates for receipt of theses by the Doctoral Degrees Board Office are the 12h00 on the first day of the new academic year, or 15 August. The University does not however undertake to reach a decision on the award of the degree by any specific date.

NOTE: To avoid re-registration students are required to submit by 12h00 on the last day of the year (31 December). Students may be granted a grace period until 12h00 on the first day of the new academic year in February to submit. After the first day of the new academic year, students who have not submitted will be required to re-register.

The Thesis

GP6.1 A thesis must be submitted:
(a) in English; or
(b) in a language and literature department, in English or in the language of the department concerned; or
(c) if the approval of Senate has been obtained by the candidate at the time of his or her original admission as a candidate, in another language.

GP6.2 A candidate must submit:
(a) for examination an electronic copy in the format specified together with an abstract and the specified metadata; and
(b) for graduation an electronic copy of the final corrected version in the format specified together with (where necessary) corrected abstract and specified metadata, and a certificate from the supervisor or Committee of Assessors or Doctoral Degrees Board that the required corrections have been made.

GP6.3 The thesis must constitute a substantial contribution to knowledge in the chosen subject and may embody only the original work of the candidate with such acknowledged extracts from the work of others as may be pertinent. The thesis may incorporate creative work integral to the overall argument. It must on presentation be accompanied by a declaration on the part of the candidate regarding the extent to which represents his or her own work, both in concept and execution.

NOTE: Any thesis, and in particular a thesis which incorporates the candidate’s original creative work, must be such that it lends itself, in principle, to examination by international examiners.
and to revision and re-submission. Where the thesis incorporates a creative component, this must be integral to the thesis and the thesis must be coherent. The creative component (exhibition or theatrical production for example) must be reviewable, and may have to be submitted in recorded or filmed or photographed form. A candidate who wishes to include his or her own creative work as part of a thesis must indicate his or her plans for executing this work in his or her application for admission as a candidate as the Doctoral Degrees Board is required to scrutinise this rigorously to ensure that the thesis would be examinable. The Doctoral Degrees Board may require local assessors to assess the work as a first step in the examination process, to evaluate the work and to submit a report, which would be sent to the examiners, (for example in order to resolve any potential confusion or difficulties in examining the different elements of a drama or dance piece). The decision as to whether to do this will ordinarily be taken by the Doctoral Degrees Board at the time it accepts the candidate’s thesis proposal.

GP6.4 The text of the thesis must be prefaced by an abstract of it prepared in accordance with the guidelines approved by Senate and indicating in what way the thesis constitutes a contribution to knowledge.

GP6.5 The literary presentation of the contents and the statistical presentation, if statistical argument or material is included, must be satisfactory.

GP6.6 A candidate shall not be given credit for any work that has been accepted for another degree.

GP6.7 A PhD candidate who contemplates including published papers in his/her thesis must accept that approval to do so is not automatic. If a candidate contemplates doing this, he/she must note this in his/her MoU with his/her supervisor each year. In addition he/she and his/her supervisor are advised to seek the advice of the Faculty’s higher degrees committee about his/her plan to do so at an early stage (acting in accordance with any internal procedures and guidelines that a particular faculty may require). While the relevant faculty committee will not be able to give a binding answer, it will be able to indicate to the candidate and his/her supervisor whether:

(i) it is likely to support the proposal; where published papers are included, the thesis must nonetheless show acceptable academic style, scholarly content and coherence as a connected account with a satisfactory introduction, statement of thesis and conclusion: or

(A copy of the procedures of the Doctoral Degrees Board is available on request from the Doctoral Degrees Board Office)

All student contemplating the use of published papers must read the guidelines at:
http://www.uct.ac.za/students/candidates/downloads/

(ii) it is unlikely to support submission according to the plan outlined and why. A binding decision can only be given by the DDB. It is accepted that this may not be possible until some time into the PhD work.

GP6.8 A PhD thesis may not be less than 40,000 words (in the case of a thesis incorporating creative work) or more than 80,000 in length, unless the dean (acting after consultation with the supervisor) approves a request by the candidate to exceed this limit. Where a dean allows a longer thesis, he or she may stipulate a maximum number of words for the thesis. Where a dean allows a longer thesis, he or she must inform the Doctoral Degrees Board of the fact and of the stipulation made.

GP6.9 After the examination of the thesis, a student requiring making corrections to the thesis before being allowed to graduate, or revisions to the thesis for re-submission and re-examination, must, except with permission from Senate, submit these changes within one year from the date of notification from the Doctoral Degrees Board. A student who fails to do so will not be permitted to renew his or her registration for the degree.

GP6.10 Publication of theses on the OpenUCT repository and Deferral of publication of a thesis to allow for publication or to allow IP protection

(a) Publication of a thesis, the abstract and the thesis metadata on the OpenUCT access repository immediately after graduation will be the default position, provided that:
A supervisor must defer this publication of the thesis (but neither the abstract or metadata) for 24 months from the date of graduation to allow the submission of work, arising from the thesis, for publication where the student has agreed to this; where the findings/data/conclusions have not been submitted for publication prior to the date of the graduation; and where the student declares an intention to prepare work for publication either in monograph form or in journals; or

The Doctoral Degrees Board may defer this publication of the thesis, and if necessary the abstract, but not the metadata, for up to 36 months from the date of graduation in order to allow intellectual property protection of work arising from the thesis where the necessary IP protection has not been secured and where the Director of the Research Contracts and IP Services Office is of the view that there is case for or a requirement for IP protection, provided that the abstract will be published immediately following graduation unless the Doctoral Degrees Board determines that to do so would compromise IP protection, in which case an abridged abstract shall be provided by the student and shall be published for the period of deferral.

Publication

GP7 A candidate may, subject to the prior written approval of his or her supervisor and subject to the provisions of rule GP9, publish a part or the whole of the work done by him or her under supervision for the degree before presenting his or her thesis for examination.

GP8 When presenting a thesis a candidate shall be deemed by so doing to grant free licence to the University to publish it in whole or in part in any format that the University deems fit.

GP9 No publication may, without the prior permission of Senate, contain a statement that the published material was or is to be submitted in part or in full for the degree.

Graduation

Degrees are conferred and diplomas and certificates are awarded at meetings of the University called congregations. Congregations are held at dates and times set by Council. The Chancellor, if present, presides. In his or her absence the Vice-Chancellor, or the Vice-Chancellor’s nominee, in that order, presides. No graduand is entitled to any of the privileges conferred by a degree until he or she has been admitted to the degree at a graduation ceremony; admission to degrees takes place in person, or in absentia.

A student may not present himself or herself for graduation or diploma unless in the prescribed academic dress. Graduation and diploma award ceremonies are held in June and in December.
